Spirit of the Living God

Words/Music by: Daniel Iverson

Spirit of the living God, fall a-fresh on me.
Spirit of the living God, fall a-fresh on me.
Melt me, mold me, fill me, use me.
Spirit of the living God, fall a-fresh on me.

Today's Scripture

Matthew 3:13-17

Baptism of Jesus

¹³ At that time Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan River so that John would baptize Him. ¹⁴ John tried to stop Him and said, “I need to be baptized by you, yet You come to me?” ¹⁵ Jesus answered, “Allow me to be baptized now. This is necessary to fulfill all righteousness.” So, John agreed to baptize Jesus. ¹⁶ When Jesus was baptized, He immediately came up out of the water. Heaven was opened to Him, and He saw the Spirit of God coming down like a dove and resting on Him. ¹⁷ A voice from heaven said, “This is My Son whom I dearly love; I find happiness in Him.”

A Prayer of Blessing Over the Water

One: Listen! (Pour a little water into the font) The sounds and sight of the water of life.

All: Like the splash of a baby's bath, the crash of waves on an ocean shore, the gentle patter of falling rain, the tear in a friend's eye, the delicate dew glistening in the morning sun.

One: Listen! (Pour a little water into the font) The water of history, echoes of our story.

All: From the dry void and barren wasteland, God brought the teeming waters of creation. After the flood, God placed a rainbow in the sky as a sign of your promise. When God saw the people as captives, God parted the waters and led the oppressed to new freedom and great responsibility.

One: Listen! (Pour a little water into the font) The water of renewal, echoes of the Redeemer.

All: Jesus was born in the water of a womb, baptized by John and anointed to preach the Good News of freedom and forgiveness. He changed water into wine, calmed storms, offered living water to societies forgotten and invited us to share in His baptism and to make disciples locally and globally.

One: Listen! (Pour a little water into the font) The water is always full of hope. God, pour out Your Holy Spirit on us. May this gift of water become on us living water – Living water that take us deep into the river of Life; that nourish our joy; and that cools and eases our burdens. Let Your baptismal touch God bring us into Your holy circle of unconditional love and tender embrace.

All: Amen. Amen.

Reaffirmation of Baptismal Act

If you choose, come forward to recall the promises of your baptism – made either by you or on your behalf by your parents/guardians.

If you have never been baptized, consider whether this is the day you would like to start the journey towards your path of following in Jesus' footsteps.

As the water touches your forehead, water hears these words today:

“You are a Child of God, who God loves dearly!”

Invitation to the Offering

What we give and the spirit with which we give it, enables this church to make a difference in the lives of all whom we touch.

Luke — Jesus and the Outsiders, Outcasts, and Outlaws written by Adam Hamilton.

From Birth to Resurrection in the Gospel of Luke Jesus came to lift up the lowly. Throughout his ministry to his final days on the road to the cross, we find stories of his relationships with ordinary, flawed, and unexpected people. He met, dined, and traveled with people who were not perfect. Many of them were struggling, some were outsiders or even outlaws. Whoever they were, from those he healed to the outlaws with him at his crucifixion, Jesus brought the good news of God's kingdom to those who most needed to hear it. In Luke: Jesus and the Outsiders, Outcasts, and Outlaws, pastor and bestselling author Adam Hamilton explores the life, teachings, death, and resurrection of Jesus as told in the Gospel of Luke. Through Luke's stories we find Jesus' care and compassion for all as he welcomes sinners and outcasts. As we study Luke and see Jesus' concern for those who were considered unimportant, we hear a hopeful and inspiring word for our lives today.

Time with our Children

Jesus Surprises John

By Dr. Carol J Miller

John was standing waist deep in the Jordan River in Israel. For days John had been standing near the river, preaching to the grown-ups, telling them that they were not doing the right things. They were not helping the poor; not giving them clothes or food or shelter. John warned them that God's own Son was coming. He would be angry at them. That made the adults nervous—they had gotten selfish; they had forgotten the poor. What should they do?

John told them to come and be baptized as a way of showing God that they meant to change their ways. Then God would forgive their sins.

But then, said John, they had to prove that they truly meant it by living their lives differently—by not being selfish and by paying attention to helping others.

Matthew 3:13-17

What do you think those grownups could do to show God that they had stopped being selfish? [accept all answers].

Well, the people began to do what John told them. First, they came to be baptized by John in the Jordan River. Lots and lots of selfish people, coming to show God that they would do better. That's why John was standing knee-deep in the river. Then, John suddenly looked up and his mouth dropped open. Jesus came splashing into the river toward his cousin John!

"Baptize Me, too," said Jesus. Without even thinking, John said, "I should be baptized by You." John knew that Jesus was not a selfish grown-up. He was the best person John ever knew. John knew something else, too. He knew in his heart that Jesus was God's Son that people had been waiting for. He didn't need to be baptized.

But Jesus said, "Allow it for now." Maybe Jesus wanted the people to know that instead of being mad at them He wanted to be with them and help them to do what God wanted them to do. This wasn't what John had expected. But he would see that it was the best way for God to be with God's people. Jesus would show them understanding and love, just as He shows it to us.

JANUARY FAITH AND WELLNESS NEWLETTER

“Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come: The old has gone, the new is here!”
2 Corinthians 5:17

January is Cervical Cancer awareness month

The National Cancer Institute projected that approximately 13,360 individuals were diagnosed with cervical cancer in 2025, of those, 4,320 died of the disease.

Cervical Cancer is preventable. Nearly all cases are caused by the human papillomavirus (HPV). Males and females ages 9 to 45 should get vaccinated for HPV.

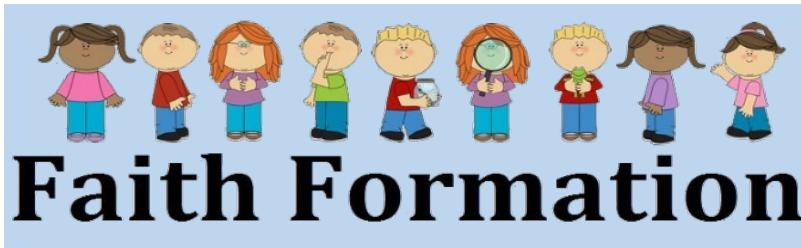

Early detection is key for more effective treatment. The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) recommends that women should start getting Pap tests every three years, beginning at age 21. From 30 to 65 years of age, they recommend either the Pap test alone every three years and a high-risk HPV test alone every five years. Women can also opt for “contesting”: both tests every five years. In the past it was not recommended for most women over 65, new studies show that cervical cancer in women older than 65 is unfortunately in a later stage of the disease.

The good news is the FDA has approved the first at-home device for Pap smears! These tests are scheduled to be available nationwide through Teal Health by early 2026.
